HOST/SPEAKER

MONICA LINDEEN

Montana Commissioner of Securities and Insurance, State Auditor

Monica J. Lindeen was elected Commissioner of Securities and Insurance, Montana State Auditor in 2008 and re-elected to a second term in November 2012. Monica makes it her mission to protect Montana's securities and insurance consumers through education, fairness, and transparency. During Monica's tenure, her office has returned more than $374 million to investors and insurance consumers and fielded tens of thousands of phone calls from Montanans struggling with their insurance companies.

Monica was elected President of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and served in that capacity throughout 2015. She is a strong advocate for states' rights and believes the state-based regulatory system is superior in serving our consumers and markets. Monica's role at the NAIC has ensured Montana has a strong voice on insurance issues at both the national and international level.

In 2013, Monica received the Excellence in Consumer Advocacy Award. She received the honor in recognition for her work as a strong voice for consumer protection and her dedication in maintaining states' rights in insurance regulation.

Monica began her career in public service representing a rural district in the Montana House of Representatives. Due to her hard work in the legislature, she earned a reputation as a common-sense moderate who could get things done. She quickly became a leader in the House and served four terms (1999-2006).

Prior to public service, Monica formed a highly successful Internet business—Montana Communications Network, one of the first Montana-based, local Internet Service Providers.

Monica earned a bachelor's degree in education, specializing in English and History. She completed graduate coursework in Educational Foundations at MSU-Billings. Lindeen and her husband, David, have a daughter, two sons, and seven grandchildren.

Meet Sam Villa Redken's Education Artistic Director... an explosive talent of inspiration!

Motivational, creative, passionate, loveable, full-of energy, with a touchable personality and honest approach to learning... these are just a few thoughts that come to mind at the mention of Sam Villa's name. Sam possesses a unique blend of technical and artistic skills that draw you in and make you want to learn! A reason why he has been awarded the prestigious "Favorite Platform Artist" title at the Behindthechair.com Stylist Choice Awards.

As a Redken Performing Artist for 11 years, a lead Facilitator at the Redken Exchange in New York City, and as Redken Design Consultant, Sam's work has taken him beyond home base of New York to many cities throughout North America, Latin America, Europe and Asia conducting major shows, training seminars, in-salon programs, as well as participating in New York Fashion Week.

Dr. Lew has been described as "the motivational psychologist of the Beauty Industry." Arnie Miller, Founder of Matrix wrote that, "Dr. Lew understands the needs of our clients and our own professional needs better than anyone else in the world!" Dr. Lew received the prestigious Zeggie Award from the Pittsburgh Beauty Academy because of "his courage in blazing new paths and scaling new heights for the improvement of the cosmetology salon industry."

Dr. Lew is Matrix's motivational psychologist, author of 23 books, Founder of the field of Salon Psychology which centers on motivating salon professionals to feel deeper pride, human purpose, and professional prosperity. His most recent books include Passionate Salon Professionals with Joe Santy, Early Poppers: Secrets of Self-starters, If it weren't for you, we could get along," and The Motivating Team Leader. He has inspired beauty professionals to find a higher purpose in their work by experiencing themselves as not just changing hair, skin and nails but clients' levels of courage, confidence and hope.

Ammon has been a professional hairdresser for nine years and a platform artist with Matrix for six. His editorial work has been featured in several high-profile fashion and beauty publications, such as Vogue, Marie Claire, Harper's Bazaar, Cosmopolitan, Vanity Fair, Seventeen, Modern Salon and American Salon. Ammon's celebrity client roster includes A-listers Kate Beckinsale, Molly Sims, David Foster, Lake Bell, Parker Posey, Leighton Meester, Amanda Seyfried, and Carson Kressly.

In addition to his role as Artistic Director for Design Pulse, Ammon's body of work for Matrix includes HD Red, Holiday 2009 Collection, "Legally Blonde" Cut & Color Inspirations, "On the Fringe" Collection, and Design Pulse "Eye On Design" styling brochure. He has also taken his work on-the-road and on-stage for various Matrix events, such as Destination and the Vavoom National Roadshow.

With a well-rounded skill set which includes cutting, color and styling (mastering talent in all three), Ammon's diverse experience spans Film, TV and Runway.

Lindeen Urges Customers to Protect Their Personal Data

HELENA, Mont. — Montana Insurance Commissioner Monica J. Lindeen's office was notified by New West Health Services today of a security breach that may affect the personal information of 25,000 past and present New West customers.

"New West is mailing letters to affected customers today," said Lindeen. "I urge those customers to take steps to protect themselves."

Lindeen served as President of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners in 2015 and was instrumental in implementing a Cybersecurity Consumer Protections document as a member of the Cybersecurity Task Force.

"When you purchase insurance, you have the right to know how your personal information is being collected, maintained and used," said Commissioner Lindeen. "This protection also extends to being notified if your information has been involved in a data breach."

The NAIC Cybersecurity Consumer Protections document includes the following:

- Know the types of personal information are collected and stored by your insurance company, agent or any business it contracts with.

- Expect insurance companies/agencies to have a privacy policy posted on their websites and available in hard copy, if you ask. The privacy policy should explain what personal information they collect, what choices consumers have about their data, how consumers can see and change/correct their data if needed, how the data is stored/protected, and what consumers can do if the company/agency does not follow its privacy policy.

- Expect your insurance company, agent or any business it contracts with to take reasonable steps to keep unauthorized persons from seeing, stealing or using your personal information.

Get a notice from your insurance company, agent or any business it contracts with if an unauthorized person has seen, stolen or used your personal information. This is called a data breach. This notice should:

- Be sent in writing by first-class mail or by e-mail if you have agreed to that.

- Be sent soon after a data breach and never more than 60 days after a data breach is discovered.

- Describe the type of information involved in a data breach and the steps you can take to protect yourself from identity theft or fraud.

- Describe the action(s) the insurance company, agent or business it contracts with has taken to keep your personal information safe.

- Include contact information for the three nationwide credit bureaus.

- Include contact information for the company or agent involved in a data breach.

- Get at least one year of identity theft protection paid for by the company or agent involved in a data breach.

- If someone steals your identity, you have a right to:

- Put a 90-day initial fraud alert on your credit reports. (The first credit bureau you contact will alert the other two.)

- Put a seven-year extended fraud alert on your credit reports.

- Put a credit freeze on your credit report.

- Get a free copy of your credit report from each credit bureau.

- Get fraudulent information related to the data breach removed (or "blocked") from your credit reports.

- Dispute fraudulent or wrong information on your credit reports.

- Stop creditors and debt collectors from reporting fraudulent accounts related to the data breach.

- Get copies of documents related to the identity theft.

- Stop a debt collector from contacting you.

New West is offering one year of complimentary credit monitoring and identity protection services to those individuals whose Social Security numbers were compromised.

If you have questions about your rights as an insurance customer, please contact the Policy Holder Services Division at the Montana State Auditor's Office at 1-800-332-6148.
